

Consultation Fees, Author Services and Publishing Packages

One-on-One Consultations for Writers

You can receive one-on-one support with your writing project, covering a wide range of topics from our consultant. We offer support and coaching by email, telephone and Skype. Consultations typically last an hour per session and we will schedule the telephone or Skype consultation for a time that is suitable for you.

Fees:

Email Consultation (up to three replies): £60
Telephone Consultation: £80 per hour
Skype Consultation (Chat): £80 per hour
Skype Consultation (Video Call): £120 per hour

Coaching Services

If you would prefer to learn the step-by-step approach to self-publishing your work, we can help. We will teach you and advise you on how to go through the self-publishing process. We will guide you on the best options for your work, right from choosing a title, through to the final product, which is a published ebook or print book.

This option is particularly suitable for writers who wish to publish more than one book in the near future. If you've got several manuscripts or you're writing a series, and you need more than a one-off publishing package, we recommend a coaching plan for you.

Fees

Workshops

Our self-publishing workshops are ideal for writers, bloggers or anyone who wants to take their writing to the next level. We offer both online and classroom based classes. Online classes are £49.99 for a two-hour session.

Publishing Packages

We offer a variety of publishing packages that are designed to be flexible to meet your individual needs. If you want a service that's not included in the packages, we can mix and match different services together to find a solution that perfectly fits your publishing project.

There are discounts available for multiple projects. Please ask during your enquiry.
